Meeting at Central Union Last Night.

OFFICERS FOR NEW YEAR ARE ELECTED

Honolulu Young People's Christian Union Listen to Instructive Addresses.

CENTRAL UNION CHURCH was filled last night with the delegations from the various young people's societies of Honolulu, Kaunakakai, Kapaemahu, Christian, Methodist, Chinese, Japanese, New Portuguese, Central Union Churches were represented, and delegations were present from the Kamehameha Girls' and Kamehameha Boys' schools.

The meeting was the regular meeting of the Honolulu Young People's Christian Union, which is held every two months. The program was opened by a song service conducted by Miss Florence R. Yarrow, followed by a prayer by Mr. H. E. Coleman, of the Young Men's Christian Association. The business of the meeting consisted in the election of officers for the ensuing year, and this was disposed of with dispatch by the election by acclamation of the list of officers recommended by Miss Ada Whitney, secretary. The retiring officers are A. J. Coats, president; D. L. Nauni, vice president; William Templeton, treasurer; Miss Ada Whitney, secretary, and Silas P. Perry, secretary of junior work. The newly elected officers are M. K. Nakamura, president; Miss Kate Kelley, vice president; Miss Ethel Chamberlain, secretary, and G. K. Fukawa, treasurer.

Reports from the various societies represented were then read, all showing progress and growth, the various organizations being in a thriving financial condition, as well as being on the advance in matters of membership and attendance.

Dr. A. Maxson Smith, president of Oahu College, then occupied a half hour with a strong and helpful address upon the realization of the presence of the Spirit. He sought to impress his audience with the nearness at all times of the divine presence. He said that the only way to explain life was in the existence of a great being who controls all things, and that under this theory the divine presence in all places and at all times must necessarily be admitted. Following up this thought, Dr. Smith said that with the keen realization that God is with us at all times, we cannot do a wrong thing or think a wrong thought, without we are covered with shame and confusion under his eyes, and on the contrary, when our actions are meritorious and unselfish, tending towards the Christ-like and perfect, we cannot help but be glorified and made strong in our efforts to follow the teachings of Him who lived the great example.

A congregational hymn followed Dr. Smith's address, and Miss V. Barber, accompanied by Mr. Ingalls on the church organ, played a violin solo. Major Wood, of the Salvation Army, was given charge of the meeting for ten minutes, and he made the period a rousing one of exhortation and testimony.

Mrs. Walter Hoffman sang "The Blessing of a Kingdom" in a pleasing manner, and Rev. Silas Perry closed the program with an address and benediction.

In his address Rev. Mr. Perry took up the thought advanced by Dr. Smith, but presented another phase of the question, "We know that God is with us," said he, "now, the question is, are we with God?" He spoke of the value of harmony and Christian fellowship, and dwelt particularly upon the great force of sincere and earnest motive.

There must, in his opinion, be a great force of love behind all Christian work. "What would the orbits of the stars, the great plan of the universe, and all the great mysterious system of the planets amount to," said he, "if it were not for the great controlling law of gravitation? What of the diamond in all its sparkling beauty without the law of crystallization? There is a great force behind it all, my friends, and we must have the great force of love to drive us on in our work. We have the potentiality of great things in us, and we must organize our forces and exert our energies in the right direction. It is even as we do when we find a swift rivulet dancing down the steep hillside; it is beautiful to look upon, but we realize its potentiality and we make us a mill and entrap the power of the beautiful stream, and turn it into a great force. We are here tonight, each of us individually representing a potentiality for power, and we are organized in various societies, wherein our forces are gathered and united. In representation of our respective societies we come together here tonight to form a still larger union, and we are in harmony in the union of our strength. Let us not lose sight of our individual potentiality, and let us all work towards the same end, and put forth our best efforts, with the great motive of love and Christ in our hearts. We are but channels, and let us hope that we may be utilized, and let us put ourselves in the right relationship with God. Let us make way in our hearts for the Holy Spirit, that it may fill our hearts with a great joy and love; that it may make us strong and vigorous in the work for Him who said, 'Behold, I am with you until the end.'"

Shipping Notes.

The steamer Helene sails at 5 o'clock this afternoon for Pahuah, Kukaia, Oolaka, Laupahoehoe and Papaaloa. The Pacific Mail steamship City of Peking is due this morning from the Orient. She is scheduled to sail for San Francisco some time today.

The steamer Noeau sailed for Koloa yesterday afternoon.

At 8 o'clock on the evening of Wednesday the steamer Upolu spoke the brigantine J. D. Spreckels about eight miles south of the southernmost point of Lanai. The little vessel was becalmed on her way to Hilo and Captain Brown asked Captain Dalton to report him at this port.

The Star of Bengal, which is now discharging coal at the Navy wharf, had an unpleasant experience for several days about a month after she sailed from Newcastle. It was found that a portion of her cargo had become heated as the result of rain having got into the hatches while she was loading at the Australian port. About 75 tons had to be thrown overboard and much coal had to be shifted in order to allay the heat.

Advices received by wireless telegraph are to the effect that the freighter American is still at Kahului and has taken aboard about half of her cargo for New York. The weather is very rough and is delaying the work of loading.

The schooner Aloha sailed for San Francisco yesterday with about 24,000 bags of sugar.

The steamer Walaleale arrived from Kauai yesterday morning with 3,030 bags of sugar for H. Hackfeld & Company.

The steamer Upolu was inspected yesterday afternoon by Captains Whitney and Lehnars.

The James Makee has come off the marine railway. She and the Iwalani are having the watertight bulkheads required by law put in them.
